Bonhams Internship Opportunities For Graduate Students

Description

The Bonhams Internship offers a unique opportunity for individuals passionate about art, auctions, and the cultural heritage sector. As an intern, you will immerse yourself in the dynamic environment of one of the world's leading auctioneers. This program is designed to provide you with hands-on experience in various departments, including client services, cataloging, and marketing.

Responsibilities

Interns at Bonhams will engage in a variety of tasks to support the auction process. Responsibilities include assisting with auction preparations, cataloging items, researching provenance, and providing customer service during auctions. Interns will also have the opportunity to work closely with specialists and gain insights into the valuation and sales process.

Qualifications

Candidates for the Bonhams Internship should be enrolled in or have recently completed a degree in Art History, Business, or a related field. A strong interest in the arts and auction industry, coupled with excellent organizational and communication skills, is essential. Familiarity with Microsoft Office and database management is also advantageous.

Job Benefits

The Bonhams Internship provides a comprehensive introduction to the art and auction world. Interns will benefit from networking opportunities with industry professionals, hands-on experience with auction processes, and potential career advancement within the organization. You will also receive a competitive stipend to support your learning journey.

Experience

While prior experience in an auction house or gallery is not mandatory, it is beneficial. Successful candidates often have a background in customer service, sales, or arts administration. Experience in a fast-paced work environment will help interns adapt quickly to the dynamic nature of auction events.

Skills

Key skills for Bonhams Interns include attention to detail, strong analytical abilities, and excellent written and verbal communication. Interns should be proactive,
