

<https://www.scholargrades.online/job/the-times-internship/>

The Times Internship Program For Graduates 2025

Description

Embarking on an internship with The Times offers an unparalleled opportunity to dive into the world of journalism and media. This program is designed to equip aspiring professionals with hands-on experience, mentoring from industry leaders, and the chance to contribute to impactful projects. Here's an in-depth look at what this internship entails:

The Times Internship is a dynamic program tailored to groom future leaders in the media industry. Interns will be immersed in real-world tasks, providing them with a comprehensive understanding of the inner workings of a leading news organization. This program is ideal for individuals who are passionate about journalism, media, and storytelling.

Responsibilities

Interns at The Times will engage in a variety of tasks, including but not limited to:

- Assisting with research and fact-checking for articles.
- Contributing to the creation of digital content across various platforms.
- Participating in editorial meetings and brainstorming sessions.
- Supporting the team in planning and executing events or special projects.
- Shadowing reporters and editors to gain insights into their day-to-day operations.

Qualifications

To be considered for The Times Internship, candidates must meet the following criteria:

- Currently enrolled in a degree program related to Journalism, Communications, Media Studies, or a related field.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- Demonstrated interest in the media industry through coursework, extracurricular activities, or previous internships.
- Proficiency in digital tools and social media platforms is a plus.

Job Benefits

Interning with The Times comes with numerous benefits, such as:

- Gaining practical experience in a prestigious and globally recognized media company.
- Networking opportunities with seasoned media professionals and fellow interns.
- Access to workshops and training that enhance both personal and professional development.
- A potential pathway to full-time employment based on performance and organizational needs.
- A stipend to cover basic expenses during the internship period

Experience

Hiring organization

The Times Internship

Employment Type

Full-time, Intern

Duration of employment

7

Industry

Newspaper Publishing

Job Location

London, England, United Kingdom,
E1 7HT, London, England, United Kingdom

Working Hours

8

Base Salary

10

Date posted

August 13, 2025

Valid through

15.05.2027

While previous experience in a media setting is advantageous, it is not mandatory. The Times is more interested in candidates who display eagerness to learn and a genuine passion for the industry. Experience in writing, editing, or any relevant media projects will be considered favorably.

Skills

Interns will have the opportunity to develop and refine a range of skills, including:

- Advanced research and analytical skills.
- Enhanced communication and storytelling abilities.
- Proficiency in digital media production and content creation.
- Strong organizational and multitasking capabilities.
- Critical thinking and problem-solving skills in a fast-paced environment.

Contacts

Interested candidates are encouraged to apply by submitting the following:

- An updated resume highlighting relevant educational background and any pertinent experiences.
- A cover letter expressing why you wish to intern at The Times and how this opportunity aligns with your career goals.
- Samples of writing or any media-related projects you have completed.

Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis, so early submission is recommended. Shortlisted candidates will be contacted for an interview, which may include a practical assessment to gauge skills and aptitude.

The Times Internship is more than just a learning opportunity; it is a stepping stone towards a fulfilling career in media. Join us and become a part of a legacy that shapes public discourse worldwide.